Welcome to May everyone!

This year is flying by so quickly, it feels like it was Christmas yesterday and soon enough we'll be complaining that the nights are cutting in again.

I don't know about you but with things opening up again I'm looking forward to slowing down. These last few months there hasn't been enough hours in a day or enough days in a week - either that or everything I do is taking longer... So hopefully with more experiences to have, time will slow in our minds and the summer won't flash past in the blink of an eye.

For all I've dreaded the return of the cursed tourists, being out and about the last 2 weeks since the 12th, it is so nice to see the area come back to life! So I hope those in the parish that make their livings from the visitors have a successful summer season.

By the time of the next edition, we'll have passed the next opening date of the 17th of May, so hopefully we might begin to see some community events return after the significant lay off...

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Hear Abouts is all about you the reader within our Parish. It is written by yourselves (or by those just beyond our borders) and without those submissions there would be no Hear Abouts. Just a few things to note while submitting content to us which helps us out though.

Please email all content to the email address hearabouts@outlook.com and no other. There is less chance of it getting lost and forgotten about then. Written content or content on paper will not be accepted. Please send content typed in an attached document file (eg Word). Please name the file with the article title, or be descriptive in it. It gets a little confusing when you have 4 files all called hear_abouts_article.docx. Pictures make things pretty! If you have an image to accompany the article great! Pictures tell a thousand words! A good size image helps us deliver a quality print. So ideally images should be around 2000 pixels on the longest edge. Please remember to own or have permission to use the picture you send. Even as a non-profit we are liable to claims of using copyrighted images, even within our small print run.

Springtime at Eglingham Community Field

Benefiting from the spring sunshine and the work of the ECA gardening group, Eglingham Community Field is once again looking very colourful. With the easing of restrictions following the latest lockdown, the Field is once again available for use and for all those visiting the playing field and tennis court at this time of year, the display of daffodils and primroses provides a welcome sight. Further colour, together with fruit from the gooseberry bushes will follow during the summer months. The seats have now been put out for those who just want to relax and enjoy the fresh air.

Following successful tennis coaching for both seniors and juniors during the Easter holidays, Grant is continuing coaching on Fridays on the community court. If anyone else is interested please contact Nicky(07919172355). For those who are just interested in social play, there is a doubles ladder. If you would like to join in, add your name and contact details to the list on the white board which is in the tennis hut. It's a fun way to meet other people who also enjoy playing tennis. To book the court and access the hut, add your name to the whatsapp booking and coaching app by ringing Nicky.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Sir,

'A Brief History of Beanley' lecture evening

I would like to put on record my sincere thanks to the hundreds and hundreds of people who queued day and night in such atrocious weather to attend my recent lecture on the history of Beanley. In particular, I wish to express my deepest gratitude to the many distinguished scholars who had traveled all the way from Oxford and Cambridge Universities to be with us.

I can only apologise for the fact that there wasn't enough room in the village hall to accommodate everyone, but I do hope the PA system was powerful enough to be heard clearly by those standing all the way down the road at the switchbacks. I could certainly hear their thunderous applause at the end of my address.

I would also like to offer my heartfelt gratitude to everyone who at first booed, then heckled and finally physically removed that mountebank and known trouble-causer Daedalus B. Bopalula from the hall. His ludicrous rantings regarding provenance were as laughable as his trademark Liberty-pattern bowtie, which I was pleased to see got torn from his person by the police as they threw him raving and screaming into the back of the Black Maria. I hope his shameless, attention-seeking antics didn't spoil anyone's evening.

Owing to the huge success of this event I am, in conjunction with my esteemed publicity agents, now planning another fascinating talk. On this occasion the subject will be the history of South Charlton and its centuries-long association with extra-terrestrials. As the saying goes, watch this space! (Pun most definitely intended.)

With warmest regards,

Icarus G. Helm

Dear Sir,

As an avid and studious reader of your publication for many years I have noted, with sadness, the general decline in the standards of correspondence to your good self as editor. Recent examples include the use of your column for:

Blatant commercial advertising of tawdry events.

Less objectionable, but still rather trite, was the bureaucratic descriptions of council services, the success of which might be better left un-examined.

Recently there was a very vindictive polemic about plagiarism which should rightly be the provenance of our fine judicial system.

Where, I lament, are all the scholarly letters about the use and misuse of the past participle when using passive tenses? What about the plight of the poor semi-colon, that much maligned and abused adjunct to linking independent clauses which now finds itself usurped by the rampant and relentless rise of the conjunction.

I am sure your readers would agree with me that 'the rot should stop here.' I implore you to use the ample powers you have as editor of your once esteemed publication to regain the moral high ground. You sir, should be championing our cherished language in all its glittering literary finery.

I would be willing, should you find yourself ill-qualified to lead this crusade, to offer a series of brief articles for a small emolument, on the correct use of the 'second person imperative' which I think your readers would find of great interest.

Yours in vain hope of improvement

Wing Cmndr F. L. Atulence Rtrd

Historical Information Boards

This idea of info boards about each village's history has been knocking around the Parish Council for probably longer than I've been part of it. Well, after a suggestion from North Charlton they are back in the mix again.

The Parish Council are looking for interested individuals to help get this project off the ground. So if you are interested in the area's history and feel able to help out, please drop the PC a line - or catch me when I'm out and about.

A Story in 300 Words

Only the single entry this month, we suspect that its because there are other things to do now, like go outside and to a pub! (...outside)

This month's start was.. "Are you sure that's right ?", --

Next month's starting point is... "One , two , buckle my shoe" --

Are you sure that's right? I mean really sure I exclaimed, the excitement in my voice almost too much to bear.

"Yes sir" said the cheerful, but disembodied voice on the other end of the telephone.

"Our records show that your recent lottery ticket has won our Euro Health multi prize mini jackpot this month. We'd like to invite you to the prize giving ceremony tomorrow when we can present you with the cheque for 173 million"

"Pounds" I spluttered.

"Euros sir" was the quiet admonishment. "Of course there are a few factors and deductions to take into account before we can agree exactly how much your winnings amount to.

"Oh" I said cautiously, "what might those be?"

"Well sir, there is the European lottery tax to take into account, which will be significant as you are no longer an EU citizen thanks to your country's choice to perform a Brexit, then of course there is a 5% mandatory contribution to a charity of our choosing that you signed up for when you bought the ticket. Oh, I see from our file that you were a little more miserly in your choice of a 2% voluntary deduction to a charity of your choosing which should make things easier. Then we come to the purely financial consequences, clearly we have to take into account currency fluctuations, the need to compensate the finance institution you choose to invest in off shore short term derivatives, and the inevitable claims for compensation when those investments prove to be toxic. Still I think that's about it, so the actual prize will be a bit less than the headline figure."

"How much less?" I quavered.

"Well actually sir, according to my calculations, you owe us £12.50, but don't worry we have your bank details. We'll push the transaction through by BACS overnight..."

It is sometimes fun to write a folk tale as if you are one of the characters - it doesn't have to be the whole story, just part of it will do - eg Goldilocks and the three bears, and you are Mama Bear —

Pandemic Puppies Anonymous

Hello, my name's Davey and I'm a Pandemic Puppy. A year ago, barely weaned, I was purchased to provide lockdown distraction for a family of seven children. It probably seemed like a good idea at the time and I have to confess I went along with it willingly. Little did I know that none of us in that house had a clue how to turn a cuddly pup into a functioning dog. Eventually the breaking point was reached, the humans snapped and so did I so it was off to Alexa's Animals for me. For four days I was too scared to leave my kennel. Eventually, when I stopped shaking and snarling, I allowed myself to be enticed out to sniff around. Now you see before you a proper slobber chops that simply can't get enough cuddles from the staff; my Staffy-Lab combo means I am particularly affectionate but also quite strong with a tendency to plumpness if I don't do enough exercise. Lead walking is the next step then, with a little veterinary intervention, I'll have my Level 1 Functioning Dog qualification and will be looking for a new family. You might want to start working on your own CV as I'm really not working with amateurs again!

The Trustees have asked me to pass on their thanks for your generous donations and purchases. The shop on Wooler High Street is now open five and a half days a week - Monday afternoons, 10am to 4pm Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday and 11am to 4pm on Wednesdays. Our valiant volunteers, Chris and Anne, who helped start up the retail operation are stepping back; we are grateful for their energy and wish them well. We have a new volunteer, Mavis, who will be helping in the shop. The fundraising calendar over the summer remains uncertain but we have been very fortunate to secure the support of Pets At Home Kingston Park who have named us as their charity of the year.

Our boarding and day care kennels here at Patterson's Cottage are very much open for business; if you know a Pandemic Puppy who is struggling to come to terms with their human returning to work maybe spending a couple of days a week here being entertained by our dedicated team would help....so long as they understand that the cuddles belong to me.

*Yours,
Davey*

Eglingham Parish Council

Clerk Lesley Long, 5 Meadow Riggs, Alnwick NE66 1AP

Email: eglinghamclerk@gmail.com

Minutes of the electronic meeting of Eglingham Parish Council held on Wednesday April 7th, 2021 via ZOOM

Present: Chair - Cllr D Alston (DA), Cllrs D Biesterfield (DB), A Gray (AG), J Hamilton (JH) G Leishman (GL), Richard Faulkner (RF)

In attendance: Clerk - Lesley Long, County Cllr Wendy Pattinson (WP) and Pete Barrett of the Community Foundation (PB)

Matters Arising

Rural Broadband Strategy Proposal – GL reported he had been in contact with B4RN (Broadband for the Rural North), a not for profit- community benefit society delivering high speed fibre optic solutions to rural areas in the north of England. The organisation was established in 2012 and provides FTTP (fibre to the premises) connections with 1GB download speeds for £9 per month. The organisation is funded by a combination of local investment and government funding. GL has asked B4RN to undertake a viability assessment for Eglingham parish and will report back to the next meeting.

Response from Glebe Cottage to remove excess building materials. It was noted that while a small amount of materials had been removed, a considerable amount of rubbish remains on site. The Clerk was instructed to write to the owner requesting the removal of the remaining items within 21 days after which time the EPC will instruct NCC to collect them and the property owner will be billed for NCC's costs.

Update on Suggestion Boxes at Various Village Locations; JH reported boxes had been set up at the village halls in Eglingham and South Charlton, A 3rd box for North Charlton has yet to be sited.

A Memorial Tree for Henry Donations to the fund to date total £160. The appeal for a tree for Henry has been very successful. The Parish Council is currently seeking permission to plant the tree and to the use of excess funds.

Consultation on Planting Trees in the Community Field – DA detailed the responses to the recent consultation; there were 2 responses against and 10 in favour. He also referred to an enquiry from a resident asking if there had been any further development on the proposal for a children's play area on the Community Field.

County Councillors Report - WP stated she has reported an extremely large pothole in North Charlton village on the road heading towards Middlemoor. She is chasing NCC Highways for action.

WP had visited Eglingham to find out why the speed indicator sign has still not been installed. She is following up with Rick O'Farrell at NCC and, as she is paying for the sign from her Members Small Improvements Scheme Allowance, she wants it in place by April 28th 2021.

Community Funding Advice on various EPC Projects. Pete Barrett Community Foundation Senior Programme Advisor, gave an overview of the fund objectives. The fund is now in its 8th year with RWE committed to donating £81k (index linked) each year for a further 17 years. The fund can award grants of between £250 - £81,000 per project. Projects of less than £2,000 can be fast tracked through the application process. Projects exceeding £2,000 must go to the Advisory Panel. All applications are assessed on a case-by-case basis.

The fund is currently underspent, partly owing to Covid-19 lockdowns in 2020, and the fact that many capital projects for the community have already been completed. Fund investors are concerned about the underspend and Pete Barrett had been tasked to find out what initiatives the parish council and residents might wish to submit. GL reported that the parish council was actively considering several projects and that these had been assigned to individual councillors to progress - with the expectation that several applications will be submitted shortly. PB stated the fund will open for the next round of applications in mid-April, with a closing deadline in early May. The panel will meet to award grants in June or July. The next round of application dates will be in November / December and PB will be happy to help any potential applicants who need advice.

During discussion councillors agreed that it would be a good plan to pro-actively publicise funding opportunities to residents 3/4 times a year. Groups can apply for grants - but either need to be a separately constituted body or be part of the Eglington Community Association.

In response to an enquiry from WP, PB explained that, as the Middlemoor Wind Farm Fund is set up as a charitable trust with a limited duration, it cannot operate in the same way as the Ellingham fund which provides a fuel support scheme, to residents.

Middlemoor Community Woodland Planting Project – Prior to the meeting, AB had circulated an email detailing progress made to date:

He had spoken to Graham Bucknall at Northumberland County Council regarding verge planting which will include hedgerows, broadleaf trees and wildflowers. Graham is going to advise on which areas are owned by County Council and which are privately owned by local farmers.

He had approached nearly all local farmers to get an idea on their thoughts regarding verge planting and all responded positively but need to check on their Stewardships to see when plant on different sections of road within the parish would be possible.

He had spoken to a local fencing contractor who was be willing to help with planning for planting when the project was ready to proceed. The contractor had stated that the parish council would be looking at next winter before any planting could take place.

In the absence of AB, discussion on this item was deferred to the May 12th meeting.

Biodiversity Project

JH gave a short presentation with the emphasis on undertaking a community Biodiversity Project, rather than solely preparing a Policy to fit within the Neighbourhood Plan. She had approached 3 firms of consultants for quotes. She recommended the proposal from Econorth to the parish council. Econorth is an organisation which is part of the Northumberland Wildlife Trust (NWT) and whose profits are re- invested in community projects. The firm had been asked to cost 3 phases of the project: a desktop study, a 2nd phase habitat survey which would involve residents and an action plan. The quote was £7,192 excluding expenses. It was considered that the parish council should budget another £2,000 for ancillary expenses.

A full discussion ensued and after putting the issue to a vote, it was AGREED to submit a fast-track application to the Middlemoor Windfarm for the funds to undertake Phase 1- the Desktop Study in early summer 2021. JH will prepare an application to be submitted by the end of April with the help of the Clerk.

Neighbourhood Plan Update

DB reported that the 2nd draft of the plan has been reviewed and he will send the revised version to Pete Ridgeway for his comments. It hoped to share this with Sarah Branningan very soon. He has recently received Alison Farmer's adjunct report and will share it with the parish council shortly.

New Model Code of Conduct

It was agreed to defer the adoption of the New Code to May 12th, 2021, when the members of the new parish council can consider it at the same time as reviewing all other parish council policies.

Elections 2021

The Clerk confirmed that, if the election was uncontested, the members of the new parish council would be published on the NCC website April 9th. The first meeting of the new council will take place on May 12th.

DA confirmed that he was stepping down as a parish councillor after 10 years' service having been Chair for 8 of those years. This evening's meeting would be his last meeting in his formal role as Chair.

Date and Time of Next Meeting – Wednesday May 12th at 7.30pm via ZOOM. The Chair reminded councillors that this is also the date for the Annual Parish Meeting and the Annual Parish Council Meeting. He will produce the Chair's Report to present to the meeting.

Reminder that these minutes are edited for brevity in Hear Abouts, full minutes can always be found on the website.

As you may remember I got a drone back in February. Well, I've been out with it a bit and I'm now looking for interesting subjects in the parish that could be interesting from the sky. Any suggestions drop me a line. Andy

Covid Island Discs – Vanessa Braidwood

As a newbie most people probably only know me as the mad tricyclist on the B6347, I am very touched to be invited to share my Covid Island Discs. I've tried to make it into a mini life snapshot.

1. All I have to do is Dream – The Everly Brothers.

As a young child I went hunting with the Braes of Derwent where my pony, Sparky, would jump anything and was completely unstoppable. Once a year I rode from Stocksfield to Corbridge to compete in the 12.2 h.h. jumping event at the County Show. We mostly had three refusals at the first fence and rode home again. One year the local horsey teenagers offered to let us ride in their horse box. As we swayed along in the back of the box with all the ponies, the girls were all singing "Dream, dream, dream." I thought it was the highlight of my life to be allowed to ride along with the big girls. We did finally win a 2nd place rosette.

2. Love me Do – The Beatles

During the teenage years our main source of excitement was Friday and Sunday nights at the Youth Club. On Saturday nights we girls practiced our dance manoeuvres while listening to the tape recording of the Top Twenty. I was lucky enough to be allowed to queue overnight, with a boyfriend, to see the Beatles perform at Newcastle City Hall. Of course you couldn't hear them singing because of all the screaming!

3. Moonlight Sonata – Beethoven

My mother didn't like to go to sleep until I was safely in the house after a date. But one boyfriend was a talented pianist and we had a baby grand piano. So, he was allowed in for coffee as long as he played the piano. Although his piano playing was excellent, his personality was very clingy. I decided the best escape was to move to America.

4. Over the Rainbow – Israel Kamakaiwo'ole

After a couple of years, I married and moved from Boston to the 50th State, Hawaii. It was like being in a time warp where many modern conveniences had not yet arrived. The only music on the car radio was Hawaiian, so the slack key guitar, ukulele and falsetto voices became the norm. Izzy's rendition of this classic is both poignant and beautiful.

5. Love to Love You, Baby – Donna Summer

While most people imagine living on an island in the middle of the Pacific to be exotic, it is not without its challenges. With no TV or radio in the house, and a colicky baby to distract, there was much dancing around the living room with loud LP albums drowning out the crying. Donna Summer helped maintain sanity on many occasions

6. Homeward Bound – Simon and Garfunkel

My parents had retired to the Big Island and spent 23 happy years there. After they both died, I became more and more homesick. Eventually I was back in the North East and at first teaching riding, and then attending university as a (very), mature student. Newcastle College welcomed me to teach dyslexic students in their various trade courses. Hopefully these students are now all gainfully employed and much in need in today's world.

7. Going Home – Leonard Cohen

During the dark years with cancer who better to turn to for solace than the melancholy poet, Leonard Cohen. I had chosen this one to play at my funeral. Fortunately, it wasn't needed after all.

8. Islands in the Stream – Dolly Parton and Kenny Rogers

I met Bill Purvis and we plan to live happily ever after. We are hoping our summer wedding will be allowed to go ahead this year. I love all the lyrics of this song; they very much express the mood of today. I've also been lucky enough to finally get that new knee, and I may even get back on my bicycle one day soon.

A book: Pam Ayers Omnibus of Poems ... Always good for a laugh and maybe I'll even memorise some of them for the future.

A Luxury: My lippie. (With SPF 15)

Doggerel Corner

definition of doggerel: trivial or comic verse composed in an irregular rhythm

I've started to write verse recently
I think I'm trying to understand my life
Although they're only doggerel really
They seem to amuse my wife.
I've tackled friends and family
And dealt with sex and booze
I've tried one about body image
But decided I had too much fat to lose.
I've touched on age and childcare
And written about my Son
My daughters got one to herself
I've tried to have some fun.
The verses written about myself
Unfortunately are bad
I seem to paint a picture of
A chap who's really rather sad.
Perhaps my talent will improve
I can always live in hope
Too bad that, that's a lie
I'm such a pessimistic bloke.

What is a Marathon?

It's a race which is run with commitment and grit
Much distance covered, and you have to be fit;
Or a strong muscled truck driver with a choc peanut bar
Who tries to keep going, no matter how far?
Then comes rebranding: 'Marathon' became 'Snickers'
A sn-ack it is, but it rhymes with knickers!
Or snigger or snitch words that are not very nice,
Who thought that name was a suitable device
To progress their sales, who gave that advice?

So what started me off on this line of thought?
It was news that our KitKats which we always bought
For a 'break with a cuppa', were not big in Japan - something was lacking:
'Have a break have a KitKat' did not resonate: at work there's no slacking!
Then someone thought KitKat was like 'kitto katsu'
Which means: 'You will overcome' so a good luck token you give to Your friends when you meet; but things have moved on quite quickly
'Barrel Aged' Whisky is popular, I would find that quite sickly!
There's soy, wasabi and blueberry muffin - all chocolate KitKats (at £2 a finger)
These are not flavours over which I would linger!

But closer to home in this country of ours
We too add 'extras' to chocolate, but only plain bars -
Sea Salt, Caramel, Mint or Gin,
Not everyone's choice of flavours to put in!
But, you would not buy a Mars Bar with added lemon or salt
It would not be a Mars Bar but a production fault!

So Japan - leave our KitKat alone it's already crafted to perfection
And has stood the test of time, a Giant of Confection!

Arigato!
